I don't understand.

The S.E. says "the end of Aug. 06" - the draft says "31st March 07". ?

To Under Secy.

It is understood from the P.W.D. that to be on the safe side 31st March 1907 is given as the probable date by which the acquisition of the lands will be completed and that it is usual to enter the last day of the financial year as the date by which a public work will be completed, though it may be ~~complet~~ actually be completed before that da 8 months margin?

With P.W.D. kindly explain. [initials] 19.5.06

There is absolutely nothing to be gained by placing the date earlier than the end of the official year whereas if by any unforeseen chance an earlier date is fixed and the transaction is not completed accounts settled &c the Govt. of India have to be asked for an extension of time.
